

Hull New Theatre

The Grade II listed Hull New Theatre first opened on Saturday, October 16, 1939. Since then it's become a family favourite, showing the annual Christmas pantomime as well as musicals, opera and drama throughout the year.

It had a major refit for Hull being the UK City of Culture in 2017 and reopened with an increased capacity of 1,330, to a sell-out one-off performance by The Royal Ballet.
