For bags of fun...

As East Yorkshire's retail capital, there are plenty of shops to explore in Hull. From independent boutiques and record stores to your favourite high street brands, we have it all.

Treat them to something no other kid has from the array of independent sellers at Trinity Market, offering retro confectionery among other locally sourced gifts and trinkets. Just next door, Hepworth Arcade is a Grade II listed shopping arcade in the Old Town, dating all the way back to the late 1800s and features Dinsdale's - the country's oldest joke shop!

Our museums and galleries are a great place for them to spend their pocket money. Pick up souvenirs at the gift shops within the Museums Quarter, The Deep and Feren's Art Gallery - why not take home your very own woolly mammoth, gentoo penguin?

Whatever your flavour...

Kids' menus with plenty of choice, helpful staff and relaxed atmospheres make Hull's restaurants perfect for family meals out.

The serene, waterfront Fruit Market houses many family friendly spots. Bert's provides room for the whole family with ample space and a menu full of woodfired pizzas and gelato to match. Further down Humber Street, Nibble provides breakfast, brunch and lunch with a vast children's menu and space to dine in and outside.

Across Murdoch's Connection, head to Princes Dock Street for more al fresco dining or family classics in Princes Quay Shopping Centre. If you have lots of little critics to please, Trinity Market matches everyone's palates with world cuisine from Greece, India, China, Italy, freshly roasted coffee to keep the grown-ups going and a relaxed communal seating area featuring plenty of high chairs.

Explore, experience, enjoy...

For free days out that kids actually want to go on, take your pick from a host of galleries and museums to the fin-tastic Fish Trail. Even better we'll let you into a little secret, a lot of it's completely free!

Take a trip to the Museums Quarter in High Street where you can take a spin through the ages or marvel at the giant mammoth. After a year of renovation, the historic Wilberforce House, birthplace of slavery abolitionist, William Wilberforce is also back open to the public.

As well as having one of the finest regional art collections in the country, Ferens Art Gallery also has an interactive children's gallery and have a delicious, new summer menu in the gallery cafe. While Humber Street Gallery is home to a range of temporary visual arts exhibitions and events.

Step back in time at Dinostar, Hull's very own interactive dinosaur museum to see, touch, hear and smell these mighty prehistoric creatures. Dive into the amazing world of marine life at The Deep, one of the most spectacular aquariums in the UK. Explore the underwater tunnels, meet mesmerizing sea creatures, and even touch some friendly rays.
